

"Love in the Desert"

(Linda Marie Fischer)

(Phil Fischer)

Chorus]

Love in the desert,
hope in the sand,
under a rusty moon,
I'll see you soon.

A text on my phone.
Yes, I'm alone.
You're still far away.
What a price to pay.

Go to Paris?
You're kidding, right?
You're paying the bills?
I'll take it, with all the frills.

[Chorus]

Something closer, the Skeleton coast.
That's absolutely the most.
But do we have the time
to drop everything on a dime?

I can already smell the sea.
There's just you and me,
walking in the sand,
hand in hand.

[Chorus]

Your smiling face,
our close embrace.
This is not a little thing.
It's the gift that makes me sing.

Where are you anyway?
I see the gravel flying,
your foot to the floor,
vroom, vroom, vroom.

"Love in the Desert" (continued)

(Linda Marie Fischer)

(Phil Fischer)

[Chorus]

Be faster than a big cat
and don't get a flat,
through desert and dust
and the cold of the night.

Love and lust are waiting.
My body is pulsating.
We will lie under a canopy of stars.
This night will be ours.
